Boston-In spite of everything, the average price of stocks seems to be creeping up. Each day some specialty shows strength and holds its gain, a few days ago it was sugar, today it was Atchison and Shoe Machinery and some day it will be all the coppers. The Mexican situation is still disturbing and the I. C. Commission shows no intention of rendering an early decision. Speculative interest in market is at a low ebb, but in view of the continued ease in money and high dividend return of the standard railroads and industrials, they are attractive to investors.
